About the Author

CeeCee James is a wife, mom of four rambunctious kids and pet mom to two mini-dashchunds. She's always loved to read and always had her nose in a book-- getting her into trouble at school when she'd sneak it in her text books.

Writing has been a life long passion. Her first works were published in middle school and she won several short story and poetry competitions through out her life. She loves writing about love, humanity's struggles and the celebration of life. Sometimes there is beauty even in the chaos of a messy moment. For her, writing is about taking time to savor those moments.

can't wait to read the second book! I really like how the past and the present were woven in together; it brought out why Miranda was the way she is and was revealed slowly instead of all at once giving the book at good pace. Also in the flashbacks, some of Jason was revealed also.

The circumstances that brought them back together was tragic, but if she hadn't run the second time, Miranda and Jason wouldn't have found each other. As it came out later in the book, Jason is a runner also. I do wish there had been more on how they found their "uncle". I really wanted to know because I became invested in their story, past and present.

Emma Clark did a fantastic job on the narration. She infused each character with their own distinct personality, didn't go too fast or too slow.

I highly recommend this book.

Cute story

By Evenstar

This novel flipped from present time to the past. I enjoyed seeing a glimpse into the character's this way.

A bit tragic. Not without its predictability.

Reader Rated 14+ for mild violence and adult themes.
